2023 Pinot Blanc

90 points | James Suckling

This offers aromas of crushed apples, savory herbs, lemon rind and some ashy, dusty minerality. The palate is focused and crisp with medium body and a sleek, fruity aftertaste.

93 points | Wine Review Online

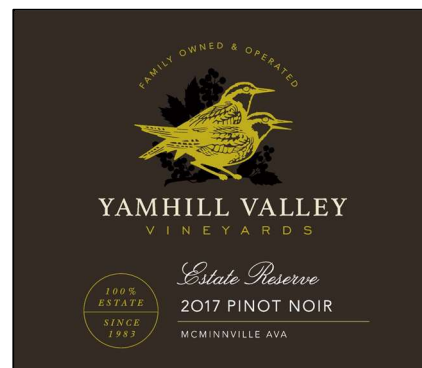

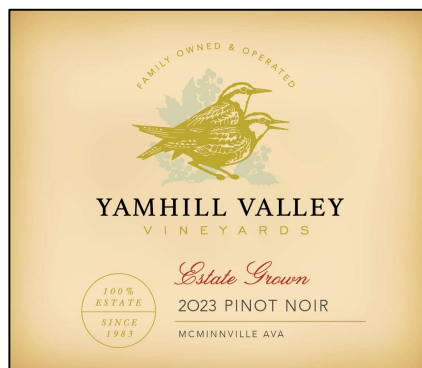

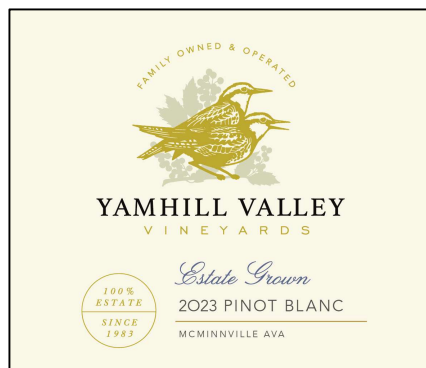

Made from vines now over 20 years of age, this is among the best renditions of Pinot Blanc out of 11 examples recently tasted. It shows predictably subtle aromas, but comes into its own on the palate, showing a fully medium-bodied profile with rounded texture but perfectly adequate acidity to keep the flavors focused and fresh. The flavors recall white melon, ripe pear and ripe Golden apples, with a little more melon than usual. The overall balance of fruit to acidity is very, very good, and the flavor notes tail off evenly, keeping all of them in play. Pinot Blancs made in this comparatively rich and flavorful style will be among the ones to help draw broader consumer attention to the variety.

2023 Pinot Noir Estate

91 points | James Suckling

Fresh and balanced and full of red berries, citrus zest and dried flowers with mineral nuances. Medium-bodied, smooth and focused and nicely framed with firm but polished tannins. Vivid, elegant finish.

91 points | Wine Enthusiast

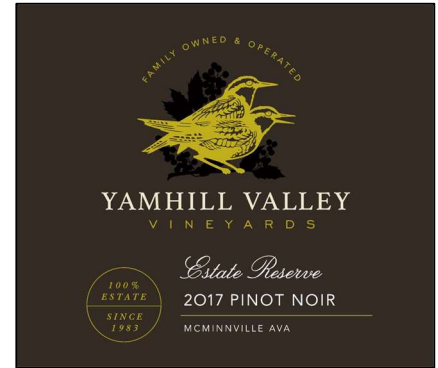

This is a spicy little number that brings pepper and nutmeg to an aroma set that includes raspberry jam and a trace of citrus. Silk tannins and moderate acidity escort flavors of blackberry and allspice across the finish line. I'd love to try this wine with Bahn mi and a side of sweet potato fries.

2017 Pinot Noir Reserve

91 points | James Suckling

Aromas of tart red berries, rooibos tea and dried herbs. Medium-bodied with fine, slightly tight tannins. Juicy red fruit with an herbal undertone. Fresh.

“20 Of The Best Cool Climate Pinot Noirs To Try Now” | Forbes

Grown at a high-elevation site the fruit for this wine comes from the second oldest vineyard in the McMinnville AVA. The wine is dense and silky with notes of cherry, spice and a bit of damp earth.
